The MOMO Seafood Extravaganza is an annual event held in honour of Garrett Paquette with the purpose of carrying on Garrett's legacy of compassion and generosity. Garrett lived his life with humble kindness towards all those around him, whether they be family, friends, or someone who just needed a friend.

When Garrett passed away suddenly on November 11, 2011 at the far-too-young age of 30, he was passionately raising funds for Movember, an annual fundraiser that raises money and awareness for men's health, specifically prostate cancer. Garrett's father, Roger Paquette, decided to carry on the torch for his son, and The Garrett Paquette Movember Campaign raised $115,000, making it the largest Movember campaign in the world.

Now an annual flagship event in Nanaimo, the Garrett Paquette MOMO Seafood Extravaganza has raised more than $950,000. After years of raising funds for Movember, Roger Paquette decided this annual tribute to his son's legacy should support the needs of local individuals and organizations in the Nanaimo community.

Proceeds from past events have supported the Moosehide Campaign, Volunteer Nanaimo, and the Nanaimo Aboriginal Centre, and has provided bursaries to students attending Vancouver Island University and financial support to families of students in our local SD68.
